

Flora was also extremely old. In fact, she was older than everyone in the family – even Mummy and Daddy. Of course, because she was a fairy, she looked just the same as when she was brand new.

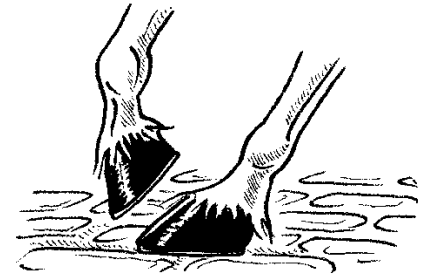

She had sat on her very first tree when Lily the Little's great-grandma was a little girl herself. And that was ninety years ago!

Flora remembered it well:

the horses
clip-clopping,

the sleigh-bells
ringing,

the smell of
chestnuts
roasting.
